

An Editor in a Tight Place.

Our readers are aware that the Montgomery Mail an old Whig and American paper, has recently become despoiled of its editor, John C. Breckinridge, as peculiarly the man for the South. The Post, the Bell and Everett organ, of that city, is editing the public by extracting editorials from former numbers of the Mail, in reference to the same gentleman, which must be not a little annoying to the editor of the latter journal. The following, for instance, from the Mail of October 7th, 1856, must be anything but pleasant to his optics about now:

"SUSPICIOUS BRECKINRIDGE.—The name of John C. Breckinridge, Vice Presidential candidate of the democracy, is in process of being made odious to the people of the South; and for this he may thank, not American speakers or writers, but such journals as the New Orleans Delta, ultra Southern Rights journals, of the Democratic stripe—journals that embrace the Cincinnati Platform, as containing all that will save the South, 'here and hereafter.' It is not Mr. Fillmore's friends who denounce Breckinridge as the suspicious candidate for a 'suspicious State'—it is an organ of the most intense of the Democracy! And who are they, who defend him in making speeches in company with John Van Buren, and declaring that he does not belong to a party which goes for extension of slavery? or for making other soft talk to Freesoilers, in a Free State, while standing side by side with the President, John Van Buren? Aye, who defend him?"

It is not such papers as the New Orleans Delta, or the Charleston Mercury—journals devoted to intense Southernism, though connected with the Democratic Squatter Sovereignty party. It is not they. But wherever, in this broad land, you find a miserable hireling of Federal power—a pliant, unquestionable tool of the powers that be—a creature calling himself man but who has long since departed with all manly attributes—a mere political pandering, who at so much per month prolongs an official relation to men who despise while they employ him—a party scavenger, with out olfactory, who revels in the odors he is called on to handle—a thing, named so-and-so, sold in a lump for a price, long ago—an individual of the class that party corruption keeps at its vilest work—whenever you find such a man, he is the defender of John C. Breckinridge, for associating politically with John Van Buren, and in the presence of Freesoilers, clearing his skirts of belonging to a party which goes for the extension of slavery!

Yes, these are the men who would make the South believe that Mr. Breckinridge is for the South, when he himself denies that he occupies that position. When he himself, comes out openly for Squatter Sovereignty. And are these enrolled, paid minions of Federal power—creatures without opinions; steeped in corruption; obedient only to the will of their masters—bound to go where they are sent, and to say and do what they are ordered—are these hangers on, pimps and stool-pigeons of Federal power, to teach the South its duty? God forbid! If the South is to be sold out, let the factors in the transaction be, at least, nominally respectable men!"

The Game They Play.

There is not one of the leaders of the Breckinridge Bolters and Seceders, if you will sound him, but is in favor of disunion if Lincoln is elected. Ask Yancey if he is in favor of disunion if Lincoln is elected, and he will answer you yes? But ask him when disunion and strife comes upon the country, if he will shoulder his musket, and ten to one, if he would not have the consumption, neuralgia, or some other disease that would require him to visit Cuba or some other outlandish country. Ask John T. Morgan if he is in favor of disunion, if Lincoln is elected? And he will answer you, yes; but when disunion, strife and anarchy was brought on the country, ask him to shoulder his musket, and he would answer that in early boyhood one of his legs was disabled, and that he was unable to take up his musket. Ask Sam Rice if he is in favor of disunion if Lincoln is elected, and he will answer yes; but ask him if he will shoulder his musket and march to the scene of blood and carnage when internal strife, blood-bred and carnage come on, the Judge will excuse himself upon the ground, that was not the fault he was invited to, and he will find Talladega Springs a more delightful retreat.

So it will be with the most of these leading Precipitators. They divide, break up and sectionalize the democratic party, as much as they can, when they know that by breaking up the Democratic party, they secure the election of Lincoln, for which they say they are for dissolving the Union. The election of Lincoln by their own infidelity to the democratic party, and then call upon Southern men to disolve and plunge the country into anarchy, from which there is no calculating how the South may retrieve itself.

We ask every man who desires peace, prosperity and happiness, to look at what the acts and conduct of these men are leading to? Many good men, we know, believe it a duty they owe to themselves and the South, to support Breckinridge, and it is for this class of our citizens we have sympathy. For the leaders in this involuntary revolution and ruin of the country, we have no sympathy. They know what they are doing, and do what they do, with cold blood. It is the leaders of this movement which leads to strife and ruin of the South, we denounce as traitors to their country. Selma (Ala.) Sentinel.

Mr. Fisher's Defeat.

The defeat of C. F. Fisher in this Senatorial district, is the subject of grief amongst the leaders of the democracy here and elsewhere in the State. His political friends in Rowan, count very certainly upon his success. But the result has demonstrated both the absolute lack of personal popularity of Mr. Fisher, and the firm confidence of Mr. Ramsay's supporters in his ability and superior fitness to represent the Counties of Rowan and Davie in the General Assembly of the State. Mr. Fisher, and his friends, have discovered that he is no stronger than the party with which he acts.

Dr. Wiseman, who ran against Ramsay two years ago, received, in Rowan, 1138. Fisher received this year, 1143—only six more. Mr. Fisher got only 1 more than Mr. Hall, and 18 less than Mr. Fleming. Fleming received in 1858, 8 votes more than Mr. Fisher in this election. So it is very clear that of the two men Fleming is the strongest. Wiseman came out 16 votes behind, two years ago; Fisher now comes out 144 behind.

This result, it would seem, is pretty well calculated to take the starch out of a man who accepted a nomination under the circumstances and in the manner Mr. Fisher accepted his. He entered on stilts. He has gone out on foot. It was, apparently, an act of great condescension on his part, to permit himself to be run as a candidate, and he would not have accepted the nomination except to gratify himself and friends, who desired, in this way, a vindication against the attacks which had been made upon his administration of the N. C. R. R. He and they have found that the people do not sympathize with them in the Railroad business; but that if they have manifested any feeling in this election on the subject, it is exactly contrary to their fond expectations.—Salisbury Watchman.

Murder in Wilkes County.

A friend at Wilkesborough sends us the following particulars of a murder in that county on the evening of election day: "J. Henderson Minton was killed the evening of the 2d inst., about 8 o'clock, by John Nichols. The circumstances as related by Mr. Jarvis, who was the only person present, were as follows: Jarvis and Nichols were going home afoot from Wilkesboro', where they had been to the election, and finding Minton, who was their neighbor, lying in a fence corner intoxicated, they called him up, inviting him to pursue his journey with them which he did. The two, M. and N., fell behind wrangling. M. overtook Jarvis first, followed very soon by N., who seemed angry as he had a stone in his hand, and cursed and swore. This he dropped when told to do so by Jarvis, but immediately putting his hand into his pocket, drew a knife, and pitching at Minton's throat, cut his left jugular vein. As soon as he struck the fatal blow he fled; M. stooped down and picked up the very stone N. had brought in his hand, followed, but fell after running about 18 steps to rise no more. He lived till about 2 A. M.

Minton was about 22 years of age; Nichols about 30. Nichols has not been taken. The murder occurred about 3 1/2 miles above Wilkesboro', in the public road.—Fay. Obs.

About Platforms.

Hon. John A. Winston, Ex-Governor of Alabama, in a speech at Mobile, termed the Cincinnati platform a "delusion and a lie." In reply to a speech made by Senator Douglas, Senator Davis, of Mississippi, said: "The fact is, that I have a declining respect for platforms. I would sooner have an honest man on any sort of a rickety platform who could construct, than to have a man I did not trust on the best platform which could be made."

In his recent letter to the Macon "Tribulation Committee," Ex-Governor Wilson Lumpkin said: "Platforms of Conventions are nothing but humbugs, and our best and most patriotic men stand little chance for the nomination at present." Yet, strange as it may appear, there are those who are willing to rely more implicitly upon the platform concocted by reckless political wire-pullers and gamblers, and adopted by irresponsible Conventions, than upon the Constitution of the country!

Mississippi for Bell.

Intelligence of the most reliable character corroborates the opinion already pretty general in this quarter, that neither Douglas nor Breckinridge can possibly carry Mississippi. The Democracy had but seven or eight thousand votes to spare before, and the determination of the two "wings," to crush each other is unflinching and unchangeable. A resident of Mississippi, well acquainted with the state of parties, states that in some districts there is scarcely a Breckinridge man, while in others there is scarcely a single Douglas man; and "parties of both parts" affirm, if they do not swear, that Bell is their second choice at all hazards and to the last extremity.—This condition of political preferences among a people not noted for the fickleness of their resolutions, ensures the State for Bell and Everett so far as human foresight can ascertain. In fact, the triumph of the Union ticket would grieve neither "wing" half so much, if at all, as the success of its Democratic relative.—Memphis Appeal.

Rather Strong.

Hon. Bailey Peyton, of Tennessee, who spoke at a Bell and Everett ratification meeting a few days ago, said that the corruption of the Administration at Washington is so great that 'the man in the moon has to hold his nose as he passes over that city.'

To the Voters of North-Carolina.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—By virtue of my appointment as a member of the National Executive Committee of the Democratic Party for the State of North Carolina, and at the earnest solicitation of a large number of friends of Douglas and Johnson, the nominees for President and Vice-President, of the National Convention of the democratic party of the Union, I am induced to issue this call to the friends of that ticket, to meet in the City of Raleigh, on Thursday the 30th of this month (August) for the purpose of organizing for the Presidential Campaign.

The excited political contest in which the people of the State have been engaged since the adjournment of the National Convention, has caused the postponement of this call to the present time. I can now, without fear of embarrassing our local elections, appeal to the friends of Douglas and Johnson—the nominees of the National Democracy—throughout the State, to arouse themselves to action—to rally to the support of the Constitution and the Union—to stand firmly and boldly by the flag of the National Democratic Party—unswayed by dictation from the Administration at Washington City on one hand, or the Yancey Secessionists on the other. Whatever politicians may have said or done—however willing and ready some of them may have been to commit our good old State to the purposes and fortunes of the secession ticket the reports of the secessionists or approval, but have been waiting anxiously the opportunity to speak out boldly in behalf of the National nominees of their party. To all such I appeal. Come together—National Democrats—friends of Douglas and Johnson—on Thursday the 30th of this month—and let us take counsel, and determine what duty and patriotism—devotion to the Constitution and Union—demand from us, in the present threatening aspect of political affairs.

ROBT. P. DICK,
Of the National Ex. Com. of the Dem. Party.

Death of Mr. Gales.

It becomes our painful duty to announce to the readers of this journal, that Joseph Gales is no more. He died a few minutes after seven o'clock on Saturday evening last, at Eckington, his late residence, near this city. He was in the 75th year of his age.

Though this melancholy event was not entirely unexpected, in consequence of Mr. Gales' infirm health for some months past, it is none the less true that the blow so long suspended has at last fallen with a weight as sudden as it is afflictive. It is some consolation, however, to know that his end was calm and painless, as his life had been serene and virtuous. Full of years and honors, rich in the tributes of veneration and regard awarded by all good and great men throughout the land, and beloved, as falls to the lot of few, by all who shared his nearer companionship in the house and the walks of private life, he has been gathered by the great reaper, Death, a sheaf full ripe for the harvest, into a garner made fragrant and precious by the fruits of a life ever noble in its aspirations and ever laborious in good works.

It is not for us, least of all, at a moment like this, to write his epitaph, nor are words of formal commemoration needed to indite for our readers that eulogy which they, equally with us, are competent to celebrate in memory of his intellectual greatness. It were better that we should keep silent while as yet the startled ear seems caught by the sound of a voice crying with such thrilling emphasis from the scene of his former activities, like that voice which the Revelator heard from Heaven saying, "Write blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from hence forth; yea saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."—National Intelligencer.

A Failure.

If Gen. Joe Lane came to North Carolina to see his kin folk, and nothing else, his trip has been eminently successful, but if to create a sensation and get up an enthusiasm in favor of the Presidential ticket of which he forms the tail end, the thing has certainly been a failure, for at Raleigh where a few of the faithful made zealous efforts to get the masses to throw up their hats the Old General remained several days without it even being known by some of the citizens that he was there, and he left without many of them ever having seen him at all.

At the time first appointed for a meeting by the citizens of Raleigh, irrespective of party of course, to make arrangements for his reception, there assembled, as we were informed, eight persons! Of course this was a failure, and so the evening of the next day was named, when after hard drumming a very small crowd assembled, when Gov. Bragg presided, Cantwell made a speech, committees were appointed, etc. The Mayor refused to preside at the meeting, the Council voted down a proposition to receive Gen. Lane, and worse than all, we were told that the military refused to turn out; and still after all this we hear some of the papers talking about the enthusiasm created by General Lane's presence in North Carolina. The fact is the tour has been a miserable failure, and if anything were wanted to show the weakness of the Seceders ticket in North Carolina we have it abundantly illustrated in the visit of General Lane to the Capitol of the State.—Newbern Progress.

The Split in Arkansas.

Each wing of the Democratic party in Arkansas has a candidate for Governor. There are, also, two tickets for Congress representing the Douglas and Breckinridge parties. The division of the party in Arkansas is past healing, as it is fast becoming everywhere else.—Charlotte Bulletin.

North Carolina Election.

There are still nine counties to be heard from. Thus far the whole vote polled in the Governor's election is 103,728, by far the largest vote ever polled in the State. Ellis beats Pool about 5,500. Pool gains on the Bragg and Gilmer vote upwards of 7000, and on the Ellis and McRae vote about 11,000. This is the state of affairs in North Carolina, after a most arduous and exciting canvass, and is an earnest that Bell and Everett will carry the State in November.—While the Union men deeply regret that they did not elect Pool, we are yet to see one who is discouraged, and who is not determined to go into the campaign for the Presidency with all his zeal and energy. The Breckinridge-Yancey Ticket will be beaten to death in North Carolina. North Carolina will not be tied to the tail of South Carolina and Disunion. Mark the prediction.

It will be seen that the Union party has made a clear gain in the Legislature of 16 members—15 in the House, and 1 in the Senate.—Ral. Register.

Elections in Other States.

Elections took place on Monday last in Missouri for Governor and members of Congress, in Kentucky for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, and in Arkansas for Governor and two members of Congress.

In Kentucky General Leslie Coombs, the Union candidate, is elected from 5,000 to 10,000 majority. Barrett, Dem., is elected to Congress from the St. Louis District in Missouri for the short term, and Blair, Republican, is elected for the long term. Sample Orr, the Union candidate for Governor, has a majority of over 2000 in the St. Louis District.

In Arkansas Johnson, Reg. Dem., is elected Governor by probably 10,000 majority, over Rector, Ind. Dem.

Wheatland Sold.

It is stated that President Buchanan has sold Wheatland, his famous rural retreat, and has purchased property in the vicinity of the city of Baltimore, where he will spend the remainder of his days in retirement.—Exchange Paper.

Don't matter much where Mr. Buchanan retires to after he leaves the White House, for the people of the country will feel but little concern in him. He has already out-lived his greatness and usefulness. We should not think that his unrelenting persecution of those who have been his best friends would make his declining years very tranquil.—Newbern Progress.

Ashe and Alleghany.

Official—Ashe Pool 811; Ellis 379. For Senate—Spencer, Union, 770; Dobson, Dem., 399. For Commons—Crumpler, Union, 866; Neal, Dem., 317. For Sheriff—J. M. Carson, Un., elected by 250 majority.—Alleghany—Pool 132; Ellis 373. For Senate—Speer 96; Dobson 404. For Commons—Crumpler 228; Neal 262. Ashe and Alleghany together elect a Commoner and belong to the same senatorial district. Pool's majority over Ellis in both Counties 191—a gain of 217. Speer's majority over Dobson 63. Crumpler's majority over Neal 515.

Good News.

We saw and conversed with a number of our friends from different parts of the country on Monday last, and they all gave us the most encouraging accounts. Bell and Everett are gaining ground every day. Changes to them are being made every day. All the Old Line Whigs are for them, and a large number of conservative Democrats have declared their intention to vote for them in November next. We are confident that our vote in Madison county will be increased three or four hundred over Fillmore's vote in 1856. Roll on the Ball and keep it going! Let all our friends stand firm, and victory is ours!—Huntsville (Ala.) Independent.

Kentucky and Tennessee.

A gentleman of this city, who supports Breckinridge and Lane, and who is now on a visit to Kentucky, writes from that State to a friend here as follows: "I think, from what I can find out, that Bell and Everett will carry Kentucky and Tennessee.—Every one thinks so. Douglas will get enough votes to defeat Breckinridge."—Columbus Enquirer.

For Bell and Everett.

We published last week a letter from a Democratic citizen of Canton county, which has heretofore given about four hundred Democrat majority, declaring his ardent support of the only National ticket in the field—Bell and Everett. We did not at the time give the name of the writer, not knowing what his feelings might be in that respect. We now, however, state that the letter was written by Hon. John G. McCabe, the Democratic Representative in the Legislature from the county of Cannon. Mr. McCabe is doing good service for the National ticket. He is a man of influence and ability, and calculates upon seeing his county vote for Bell and Everett in November. Push on the good work. Nashville Banner.

Ex-President Tyler has declared through the press that he is for disunion in the event of the election of either Mr. Bell, or Mr. Lincoln, or Mr. Douglas to the Presidency, and that in either case he will fight for a funeral! He is particularly fierce against Mr. Bell. What right has he to think that there is any human creature whom the American people wouldn't endure as President when he remembers that for nearly four years they endured him!—[Atlanta American.]

The Prince of Wales left Halifax, on the 2d instant, for St. Johns. He is handsomely received at every place he visits and must be much gratified at the honors and respect paid to him.

Mr. Keitt, of S. C., cries out for a Southern Confederacy, and his words are echoed by others in South Carolina, and in some of the 'Cotton States,' whilst Wm. Lloyd Garrison, in Massachusetts, takes up the burthen of their song, and shouts—"No union with slave holders"—and demands a "Northern government." And thus the country is rent in twain by ultra-factionists, North and South. There is a common, safe, constitutional ground to stand on.—Alexander Gazette.

Fighting Among Themselves.

The Wilson, (N. C.) Ledger says that fracas attended with bloodshed, and probably death, occurred in Nash county on the day of the election, between the friends of L. N. J. Battle and A. J. Taylor, both Democrats, who were candidates for the State Senate in that county. The Ledger says: "Although this canvass was not equal in fierceness and acrimony to previous ones, it did not wholly pass without scenes of violence and bloodshed that would not have disgraced Baltimore itself. A number of bloody encounters took place on the day of election, in which several individuals were more or less injured—two of them,

Struck by Lightning.
During the prevalence of a severe thunder storm that passed over this place a week or so ago, the fluid entered at the funnel of the chimney of Mr. T. J. Pond's cabinet shop, passed through the top and bottom of a can of varnish that occupied a position in the fire place, making a hole about the size of a bullet, and setting the varnish on fire. From thence the fluid came in contact with several small iron bars and taking a small bit from the edge of each, the subtle element passed through a brick making a round hole in the centre the size of a bullet without leaving any fractures; a bed post was next split into halves, after which the fire visitor disappeared. Several persons being in the shop at the time, one of them was knocked down but sustained no material damage.

We were at the time reviewing the cloud and saw the flash, which was most vivid, descend into the chimney, when in an instant, a bright flame arose from the funnel, that caused us to exclaim that Mr. Pond was burning his chimney or it was struck by lightning.

GROVER & BAKER'S
NOISELESS SEWING MACHINE, FOR PLANTERS' USE.

The very great success of the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine throughout the Southern States has been peculiarly gratifying to the manufacturers, who are led to believe that their endeavors to make a reliable machine have been appreciated. The policy of the Company will be unchanged, and, as heretofore, each machine will be warranted in every respect to give the most perfect and durable results.

AN ENTIRELY NEW MACHINE,
MADE EXPRESSLY FOR PLANTERS' USE;

a machine that will sew the finest fabrics for the inmates of the household, and the coarsest goods for the negroes of the field. It is so simple in construction, and so adapted to ordinary capacity can readily learn to work it and keep it in order. In ordinary wear, the machine can not get out of repair, and should last many years—being constructed with especial care as to durability. We feel every confidence in giving the most complete satisfaction. That our machines will do better sewing than can be done by hand, is evidenced by numerous testimonials, and from many we select and invite attention to a few, as showing
